90th Southeastern Conference on Linguistics

<http://www.outreach.olemiss.edu/secol/>

Welcome to SECOL 2023!

Thank you for traveling from near and far to Oxford, Mississippi, for the Southeastern Conference on Linguistics. We are thrilled to be back in person for SECOL 90, and we are proud to carry on the tradition of our annual conference after more than fifty years in the Southeast (we constituted in 1969).

We have an exciting program at this conference, with a wide range of presentation topics that offer the opportunity to explore current and future research directions. This meeting is also a chance to renew friendships and extend our networks; we look forward to getting back to amicable and productive conversations not only in the presentation rooms but also over meals and coffee breaks, which has always been a highlight of spending these days in the company of SECOL members from across the country. Look also to the SEC Spanish consortium in Ballroom D for some interesting sessions. Our keynote speaker, Sali Tagliamonte will surely make us think with her insightful talk!

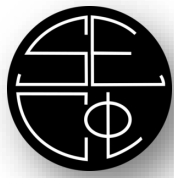

Thank you to each and every one of you for being here with us. We are very pleased to be able to welcome those of you who have been with us for a long time now as well as those who are new to SECOL. We hope you all enjoy the conference!

Thanks to local host Felice Coles, and thanks to our sponsors: the Department of Modern Languages, the College of Liberal Arts, the Graduate School, Outreach, the Inn at Ole Miss, and Alpha Lambda Delta.

Thank you for coming. With kind regards,

Tamara Lindner, President
